AN EXPERIENCED LEADER

With over 30 years in the travel industry, company founder and tour director Rosa Ramirez Carlson has been leading group travel tours out of Santa Fe, NM since 1987.

Rosa has organized and led tours to raise funds for various non profit cultural institutions and their support groups including the Denver Art Museum, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Museum of Spanish Colonial Art, the Museum of International Folk Art, the New Mexico History Museum, the New Mexico Friends of Archaeology, and the Council of International Relations.

DETAILED & UNIQUE ITINERARIES

Through the many years we have been in business, our main objective has been to make sure that every single detail has been considered to assure the comfort and safety of our travelers. Most of the work is really done before anyone leaves home with increased attention paid to the development of our daily itineraries.

We are working to partner with cultural organizations for our upcoming 2020-2021 calendar. Our tours can be customized to best support your organization and enhance your fundraising efforts.

EXHIBIT FOCUSED GROUP TOURS

Our tours can be developed to coincide with your organization's yearly exhibition or program schedule. Offer your supporters a chance to not only visit your museum but to go beyond your doors and to see the culture, origins, locations, history, and people that your exhibitions represent.

Let us provide a space and time for your supporters and members to interact in culturally interesting destinations where participants know they are helping their organization while at the same time creating shared experiences and building relationships.
